When the ninth inning began at the Polo Grounds yesterday the majority of the 7,000 spectators began to move toward the gates, be lleving that the Chicagos would be beaten. "Baby" Anson, the old war horse, was of a different opinion, and yelled in a loud voice to the "Hey, there! The game ain't over!" Her, there! The game ain't over!" He never told the truth better in his life, for in a few minutes the New Yorks went to pieces and the Windy City players piled up seven runs before three men could be retired. The support given to Rusis was very schoolboyish, and in spite of the fact that the hig Hoosier worked hard all three through, his handloap was not fail the two through, his handloap was not fail the two through his handloap was been to the chicago team seemed to make his men play with dash and snap. Their fielding was brilliant, Thornton, McCormick, and Everet making star plays. Anson showed that there are no cobwebs in his eyes yet by litting Rusie for three scorching singles. He got a warm reception from the crowd, especially after his game fight had been won. With two out, Chicago made a run in the first inning. Lange singled to right and stole second en Warner's wide throw. Lange also pilered third, and came in on "Cap" Anson's single to left, the veteran reaching second on Van Haltren's fumble. Thornton was third out on a fly to Van Haltren. The New Yorks tied the score in the last half. Van Haltren scratched a hit, and was forced by Tiernan. Joyce singled to left, and Davis fouled to Everett, Glesson made a base hit, and Therman counted, but Joyce was caught off third on Thornton's throw to Everett. BROOKLYN, 12; LOUISVILLE, 5.

The runs were coming in so fast for the Louisvilles in the first two innings at Eastern Park yesterday that it seemed as if the Brooklyns would be awamped. There's no telling what may have happened had not Manager Barnie yanked Parne out of the box, for the Louisvilles were hitting the bail to all quarters of the ground, but in justice to the pitcher it must be said that he alone was not to blame, for he received poor support. Shoch's fumble in the first inning was responsible for one of the runs, and in the second inning Anderson muffed a line drive, while Grim Bolishly, threw the ball to second after eatching Stafford's foul, thereby allowing Clingman to score. There is a different story to tell of Daub's work in the box. Only three hits were made by the Kentuckians in the last seven innings, of which one was a scratch. The members of the George Hemming Association drove out to the grounds in a tally-he and presented their standard-bearer with a horse-shoe of flowers, as it happened it was Hemming's turn to pitch and his club members looked for a great exhibition, but it was an off day for George, the home players pounding his delivery at will, Anderson leading with a drive over the left field fence and a three-bagger to the ropes. The game was stopped for a short time in the seventh inning owing to a wrangle between Shoch and Stafford. The firooklyn player edged off second and Stafford deliberately blocked his way. In a moment Hemming threw the ball to Rosers, and Shoch was caught between the bases and was finally run down. Hurst, however, sent Shoch back to second, and warned Stafford not to repeat the act. Griffin made one of the greatest and luckes catches ever seen on the grounds. It was in the eighth inning that Fred Clarke hased a high fig in sbort centre field, which Griffin got under after a long run. Mike, however, in trying to stop too suddenly, fell to the Fround, and, while lying at full leagth, put out has hands and pulled in the sphere. Even the BROOKLYN, 12; LOUISVILLE, 5.

Extensive preparations are being made to accommodate the large crowd that will be on hand at Jasper Field to witness the games between Fordham and Manhattan Colleges on next Thursday afternoon. This will be the first meeting of these colleges in sel-years. It was mainly through the efforts of the alumni advisory committees of both colleges that the meeting was brought about. Letters have been counting in from alumni in all parts of the country expressing their entire satisfaction with the renewal of old-time relations. One Manhattan man is so enthusiastic that he is coming all the way from Chicago to see these games. Louis Castro will pitch for Manhattan, while it is likely that Relly will be in the box for Fordham. Both men are good twirlers and abould even matters up.

With the result a draw because the local cricketers did not have sufficient time to retire the visiting eleven, the New Jersey Athletic Club's champion eleven and their old-time rivals, the Staten Island Cricket Cinb's eleven, met yesterday afternoon in the first match of the Metropolitan District Cricket League's championship series to be contested on the New Jersey Oval at Bergen Point. GIATE CHAMPIONSHIPS.

Ray Dawson Proves Invincible—Yale Secures Second Place-Three Records Broken-Biders Make a Fine Display in the Up-town Parade-Good Racing at Patchogue. Columbia University scored a decisive victory in the intercollegiate bicycle championships held at Manhattan Beach yesterday. Her riders captured five firsts, four seconds, and one third place, scoring five points. Yale scored two points, and Pennsylvania one. The meeting from a racing standpoint was of a high order, but the attendance was less than 1,500. The track was in excellent condition and recrds went by the board in three events. The Columbia team, which is made up of some of the speediest amateurs in the East, sustained its title to the championship by defeating the long and short distance cracks from the different colleges. While the entry list was large, a number of men failed to ride. The Princeton team did not compete, although even a point would have placed the Tiger combination ahead of Harvard on the full track and field pro-

The Yale riders failed to justify the high estimation in which they were held. Capt. Hill, who was expected to prove a dangerous rival to the Columbia men, rode in rather poor form. The trial heats were loafs until the homestretch, when the reserve speed of the men wa used to advantage in the short spurts to the tape. The winners of the first trials only qualifled for the final events. Semi-final heats were run for the second place men in the preliminary trials, the winners qualifying.

In a trial heat of the one-mile event J. P. Williams of Columbia reduced the collegiate record from 2 minutes 17 3-5 seconds to 2 minutes 15 1-5 seconds. The record was previously held by Ray Dawson. While all the members of the Columbia team rode well, Ray Dawson and Irwin Powell divided the honors of Dawson and Irwin Powell divided the honors of the day. The latter was expected to win everything, but Dawson was the star of the meeting. F. L. Schade, the curly-headed rider who won the five-mile race handly last year, proved a disappointment. He rode in all the races, but was outpaced and outgeneralled by the wearers of the blue and white.

The final of the quarter-mile dash was a pretty race. Capt. Fearing of the Columbia team cut the pace for the entire race. Coming into the homestretch Schade and Powell, who hung close to Fearing from the start, attempted to pass on the outside, and a grand rush followed. Powell succeeded in closing up and passing Schade, but could not evertake Fearing, who won by a length. McCutcheon, a Yale man, took advantage of Schades attempt to ease up at the tape, and managed to beat him on the line. In the one-mile race, a pace maker was put in to inject some life into the riders. The result was satisfactory, and Dawson won in the record time of 2 minutes 13 3-5 seconds. The previous intercollegiato record was 2 minutes 23 1-5 seconds, held by J. S. McFarland, Yale. Powell, Fearing, and Berd of Columbia finished in the order named in the half-unite event.

18 3-5 seconds. The previous intercollegiator record was 2 minutes 25 1-5 seconds, held by J. S. McFarland, Yale. Powell, Fearing, and Berd of Columbia finished in the order named in the half-mile event.

The five-mile race had twenty starters, and all were sent off in one heap. It was in this event that Schade of Georgetown was conceded to have the best chance. With Dawson. Waterman and Hays of Columbia he alternated in the lead throughout the race, Dawson led at one mile, covering the distance in 2 minutes 27-35 seconds. The two-mile mark was reached in 4 minutes 48 seconds, with Schade leading. At two and a half miles, in rounding the lower turn on the high banking, a rider in a bunch of eight swerved and threw six men. Three members of the Yale team were in the lot, which spoiled the chances of the blue winning the event. Fearing and several other riders withdrew from the race at three miles. That distance was covered by Dawson in 7 minutes 5 3-5 seconds. Scade led at four miles. His time was 9 minutes 31 seconds. At this stage a Yale man dropped on the backstretch from sheer exhaustion. The pacemakers were withdrawn at four and a half miles, and one of the most exciting races of the day ensued. On the bell lap Schade shot into the lead, and was then passed by a Harvard rider. Dawson, Hays, and Waterman, the Columbia trio, who held good positions throughout the race, came up on the outside, and, entering the homestretch, a close race took place. Dawson managed to jump to the front, pulling Hays along with him, both riders passing Schade and crossing the tape a wheel's length apart. Schade beat Waterman out by a very small margin for third place. In this race Dawson lowered the intercollegiate record of 13 minutes 4.45 seconds. The University of Pennsylvania riders have a yeary small margin for third place. In this race Dawson lowered the intercollegiate record of 13 minutes 4.45 seconds. The Succession of victories secured by the Columbia men can be attributed in some measure to the excellent judgment shown

The bicycle riders of this city, Brooklyn, and New Jersey were out in line yesterday, 10,000 devotees of the sport participating in the second annual parade held in this city. The section of the city on the west side from Seventy-second street up to Claremont, was crowded with riders. Women attired in the most approved costumes and club riders dressed in neat uniforms made an effective turnout along the Boulevard and Riverside Drive. Parades attained popularity last season and seem destined to retain it this year. The clubbouse of the Century Wheelmen on Seventy-first street was the headquarters of the officers of the parade yesterday. The street presented the appearance of a bicycle encampment after the noon hour. The details of the affair, which have been under consideration for several months, showed perfect management. The officers of the parade were selected from the leading clubs as follows:

The parade was scheduled to start at 3 o'clock, but it was 3:45 before the first division was in readiness. The start was made from Seventy-third street, and the route lay along the western side of the Houlevard to losth street; then across to Riverside Drive, and along the west side of the Drive up to Claremont and Grant's tomb. The return was along the east side of the Drive as far as 110th street; then to the Boulevard, and along the latter to Seventy-third street, where the parade disbanded.

The streets were lined with persons six deep, while the stoops and windows of the houses along the line of parade were crowded with sightseers. The first division following the officers consisted of the military wheels. The detachment of bleyele corps, representing the leading regiments, mounted on wheels, with their army equipment, earned universal approval along the line. After the military man had passed in review the city clubs came along. The Century Wheelmen with over 300 men in line presented an attractive appearance, every man being attired in a light gray uniform. The Riverside and Harlens clubs were also highly commended. The Brooklyn and New Jersey clubs followed. The Brooklyn and New Jersey clubs followed.

SOCIETY VIEWS ATHLETICS. Brilliant Gathering and Good Sport at the

The fifty-eighth set of games promoted by the New York A. C. came off under ideal conditions at Travers Island yesterday afternoon. The difficulty of getting there seemed to possess no terrors for patrons of the sport who were for tunate enough to have invitation tickets, and 4,000 members and guests faced the inevitable crush from 129th street to Pelham Manor with the stoicism of martyrs in a good cause.

The scene at the picturesque island home of the winged foot made ample amends for the worries of transit. The natural amphitheatre in its velvety spring coat glistened like an emnatural terraces surrounding the track, like a horseshoe, were thronged, row upon row, with girls and women in brilliant costumes. Bicy clists of both sexes were in evidence on every hand and helped to stir up enthusiasm by leading the applause which was richly carned at intervals by the claver performers in the arena.

A New York A. C. crowd is always worth listening to as well as looking at, as the languorous indifference of society generally blows away with the first puff of smoke from the starter's pistol. This was noticeably the case yesterday. and it soon became clear that the crowd, al though fashionable in the extreme, had come for healthy enjoyment and meant to have it even if dainty gloves were sacrificed in the general desire to show appreciation of the specialties presented.

The clerk of the course and his aides were out a bunch of blue pencils scoring off non-starters, but enough experts were left in to do credit to the occasion. Flanagan, the mighty weight thrower, recently arrived from that prolific the occasion. Flanagan, the mighty weight thrower, recently arrived from that prolific nursery of athletes, Ireland, was the cynosure of all eyes as he stepped into the seven-foot circle and awung his record-breaking hammer. After settling the aspirations of his rivals in the first throw across the ground, he opened his shoulders and let the missile go up the length of the field. It struck a hurdle about 140 feet away and snapped in two, saving the record for another day. The discuss throwing also proved a popular feature, but the competition grew tedious toward the end, and stretched the programme almost an hour beyond its normal length.

W. B. Rogers got dangerously near record in the running broad jump, and his performance, although not a winning one, eclipsed in actual merit anything done on the same ground since his last achievement there in the fall of 1805. The hurdle race, which may be classed as a field event, as it was run on the infield turf, resulted in a surprise. Perkins, the intercollegiste champion, throwing away a certain victory by bungling over the eighth obstacle.

Tommy Burke of Boston was one of the popular idols of the outing. He won the quartermile run without hurrying binnself in the fast time, for a five-lap trace, of 49 1-5 seconds, and afterward captured the half-mile run as much by superior headwork as speed. There was no walking contest on the programme, but admirers of the heel-and-toe method of progression got an unexpected treat when W. B. Feiterman of Pennsylvania and the New York A. C. came out for a trial against the world's quarter-mile record of 1 minute 23 seconds made by H. L. Curtis of England at the Manhattan A. C. grounds in 1891. Fetterman pat up a neat exhibition, but missed the record by two-fifths of a second.

Only the regulars looked for anything interesting in the three-mile run, but it proved to be one of the bits of the day. Hjertberg settled Orion a mile from the finish, and the record up to Christensen. Erns chivalrously took the schoolboy in hand and "pulle was being done for him, but lost his head in the stretch and surprised his mentor by winning in the last jump. The onlookers enjoyed the situa-tion and yelled with laughter, but Hjortberg couldn't see the joke, and Christensen will have to look for another coach in future. GEORGE KEENE'S HUDSON.

THE SON OF ONONDAGA BUNS WELL AT THE GRAVESEND TRACK.

Endball Beaten in Very Part Time-Don de Ore Wine the Carlton Stakes for August Belmout-Howard Mann Takes the Park-

Seven thousand persons saw some good racing at Gravehend resterday afternoon, strangely enough, the $5,000 Carlton Stakes, the richest event of the day, furnishing the only poor contest of the afternion. There were but three starters in this the Belmont pair, Don de Oro and Octagon, and Henry Stull's good little plater Braw Lad. Don de Oro won, but Braw Lad had the distinction of beating the winner of the Withers Stakes and Toboggan Handicap, all of which goes to prove that our three-year-olds are, on the whole, a bad lot. Graves & Co.'s handsome colt George Keene, by Onondaga, out of Bessie Hiskier, defeated Handball and others for the Hudson Stakes in fast time, and Howard Mann, the winner of the Brooklyn Handicap, short head for the Parkway Handicap. The talent now wants to know where Howard Mann will finish in the Suburban Handicap, to be run at Sheepshead Bay on June 22.

The track was not in condition for fast time, the rains of Friday night and yesterday morning rendering it soft and slushy. Sanders and Kitefoot were withdrawn from the neminations for the Hudson Stakes, but R. W. Walden & Sons added Abundant, thus making a field of six starters. Uriel was a slight favorite over Handball, the last-named conceding five pounds to his competitors. There was a delay of about half an hour at the post before the los west away well bunched, Murillo breaking a trifle slower than the rost. Handball and George Keene went away sailing from their field, and opening up a gap of four or five lengths in the run to the head of the stretch had the race to themselves. Simms rode Handball hard all the way home, and the chestthe journey. He was overmatched at the weights, however, and George Keene won by a length in the very fast time of 1:02%. Murillo, a strapping big son of Morello and Snowdrop, owned by J. G. Follansbee, was an easy third, and we haven't seen the last of him by any means, if size and quality go for anything. Recreation, Richard J., and Murillo, of Morello's progeny, leave no doubt that the dead son of Eolus and Cerise was destined to be a power in the stud had he been spared to the thoroughbred interests of this country. The winner of the Hudson Stakes is a well-balanced colt, bay in color. Smooth and round as an apple, he has been a favorite with horsemen since his first appearance at Morris Park. He is in the same stable as Van Antwerp, round as an apple, he has been a favorite with horsemen since his first appearance at Morris Park. He is in the same stable as Van Antwerp, the crack son of Eaher, who, with Sly Fox, shared the distinction of being the best two-year old at New Orleans last winter.

Robert C, Hall of Baltimore, who is a sportsman of the good old type, came over yesterday to see his crack colt Buddha run in the Carlton Stakes, but upon seeing the condition of the track decided not to start him. Bannock was also an absentee, and then the Californiah crack Candelaria was withdrawn, leaving only the Belmont pair, Don de Oro and Octagon, and Artist Stull's Braw Lad to start. Don de Oro was selected to win by the stable and the declaration was posted, but the pair sold coupled ab odds of 6 to 1 on in the speculation. It was 6, 8, and 10 to 1 against Braw Lad. Sloan on Braw Lad set out at the start to make the pace, and, with the Belmont pair close up, went three-quarters of the journey at a merry pace. Then Don de Oro moved up, and Octagon was beaten. There was a flurry of excitament in the homestretch for a moment, when it looked as though Don de Oro could not shake off Braw Lad, but when the last furlong pole was reached the big colt with the blinkers drew away handily enough, and won by a couple of lengths. Octagon was third, and did not finish his mile much better than 1:46%. The race was worth $4.000 to the winner.

The Parkway Handicap showed clearly that the Brooklyn was not a fluke. On that occasion Howard Mann carried 10% pounds and won, hands down. Yesterday he carried 118 pounds and again won, but this time he was out to the last ounce, and only gained the victory by a short head. Howard Mann passed to the front, followed by Harry Reed, Brandywine, add Rounds-in the speculation, Harry Reed and Lehman coming in for more support than any of the others. The light-weighted Arabian cut out a red-hot pace to the stretch, where he gave is up, and Howard Mann passed to the front, followed by Harry Reed, Brandywine, add Rounds-after year-olds in the West at one time last summer. Vigenta was favorite for the sixth race, a dash at the furious for two rear-olds. It was a hammer and tongs drive between Handpress, the midget son of Hanover, and W. C. Daly's Gen. Macco, the former getting the verdict by a neck. George Boyd, a brother to Fresho, was third, and Vigenta fourth. W. C. Daly claimed an apprentice allowance over night for Gen. Macco, and then sent the regular jockey. Hewitt, to the scales to weigh. Hewitt carried the regular 103 pounds called for by the schedule, and Daly was fined $200 by the Board of Stewards. Father Bill's plea was that he forgot.

Tod Sloan and Sam Doggett, the riders of Uriel and Goorge Keene, respectively, were fined $25 each for misbehavior at the post in the Hudson Stakes. All of the riders in the first race save Simms, H. Martin, and Thorpe were reprimanded for bad behavior at the post in the first race. Summary follows:

News from the Horse World.

J. H. C.—The Arabian bet was lost, as the horse was in toe hands of the starter. It is one of the chances in racing.

A and B.—A is making a rule of his own. If the bet was pay or play the money test on The Winner was lost, but the fairest way between friends would be to draw it. A does not win under any consideration, as Howard Manu and Tue Winner service different horses.
